

January 9

On January 9, 1913, Richard Nixon was born. Before becoming our thirty-seventh President, he attempted to become the governor of California, but lost the election. Would you rather be a President or a governor? Explain your thinking.